AMUSEMENTS.

At the Dixie.

There are two really great emotional actresses on the screen and stage today. They are Pauline Frederick and Madam Petrova. It is a well known fact that productions for great stars like these are carefully chosen by the producing companies and these stars are used as a nucleus around which the big manufacturers build the reputation of their attractions. Then if Pauline Frederick is one of Paramount's greatest stars, it is a foregone conclusion that anything she appears in will be of an unusually high quality, and this is absolutely the case in the presentation of Clyde Fitch's great success, "The Woman in the Case," which will be shown at the Dixie tonight. It is a glowing tribute to the genius of this artist that she makes of the central character of this tense play one of the most appealing and lovable women that have ever appeared on the screen. It is truly one of the best attractions seen in Bryan during the year just ending. Although the rental price on this attraction is much higher to the Dixie management than the usual run, the admission will remain at 10 cents.

Marguerite Clark at the Queen.

Following her thrilling romance in "Silks and Satins," little Marguerite Clark is starred by the Famous Players Film Company in an entirely new environment as "Little Lady Allieen."

The scenes of this quaint play are laid in the Emerald Isle, where Miss Clark has an opportunity to introduce on the screen a new character, that of a typical little Irish lassie who is an unperverted believer in fairies. Miss Clark has a notable cast in her support, including Maggie Hollowell, Fisher, John L. Shine, Russell Bassett, Harry Lee and Vernon Steele.

J. Searle Dawley, who has directed Marguerite Clark in the majority of her successes, is the director of this delightful photoplay, which is to be released on the Paramount program at the Queen Theater Friday.

Nothing is calculated to give the self-made citizen a harder jolt than a bill of fare in French.

UNLAWFUL TO KILL QUAIL BEFORE DECEMBER 1ST.

On account of numerous inquiries relative to the open season for hunting quail, I beg to herewith call attention to the law pertaining to same. Article 889B, Penal Code of Texas, reads as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person in this state to kill, entrap, ensnare, or in any way destroy any Bob White, quail or partridge in this state between the first day of February and the first day of December of any year; provided, it shall be unlawful for any person at any time to kill or destroy in one day more than fifteen of the birds or fowls mentioned in this act." The penalty for violation of this law is by fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than five days nor more than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

From the above it is seen that quail can be killed only during the months of December and January.
